

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation. I am increasingly concerned about the erosion of our democratic process and object to this biased attempt to shape the election results via this film; if equal time were given, they should show 9-11 to balance it out..but I think this use of our airwaves is inappropriate and dangerous for the country.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
